

Voices of English speaking delegates to the 2nd ICOR World Conference

CPSA(ML) (Communist Party of South Africa (Marxist-Leninist))

“This conference is very important. There were very valuable contributions among the delegates. And also there were very good resolutions which make this conference to advance in future. So it is very important to us. We have experienced a lot of things which are going to help the working class.”

ROL, USA (Revolutionary Organization of Labor)

“I think it is very significant that a number of serious parties, communist parties and revolutionary parties and organizations from many countries of the world are seriously participating in an effort to have international cooperation and coordination of proletarian revolutionary forces. The international working-class, in order for us to be united, the vanguard of the international working-class has to become much more internationalist. And these organizations are definitely taking a good step in that direction with this ICOR.”

CPN (Unified) (Communist Party of Nepal (Unified))

„Our party has been a member party of ICOR and we are taking part in this 2nd international conference and we found the proceedings and the subject matters and the management over here to make this conference a success very nice, very very fruitful. And we have learned so many things from here regarding all the things which have been going on over here.“

CPN (Unified) (Communist Party of Nepal (Unified))

“This ICOR 2nd World Conference is very important and I'm very proud. So this conference will go to dictate to very important and very much unified revolutionary communist parties and organizations must go to unite.”

NCP (Mashal) (Nepal Communist Party (Mashal))

„We are much impressed. The ICOR Congress is a very big step to our international work. We think it will help us to our revolutionary movement throughout the world.“

CPI(ML) Communist Party of India (Marxist-Leninist)

„Firstly, it is clear from seeing this conference as compared to the Founding Conference how much ICOR has developed. That is a development both in terms of quantity as well as in terms of quality. There is a much greater integration among all the different constituents, much greater trust and much greater team spirit between everybody. So that is very good thing. We hope that we can build up this team spirit and play the role that ICOR actually should by taking into the streets and fighting with all the people who are fighting against different types of injustice and by being able to bring the working class to the leadership of all these movements.“

CPI(ML) Communist Party of India (Marxist-Leninist)

„67 years after the dissolution of the Communist International there was a great idea and a great beginning in 2010. So now this conference has underlined the significance of the effort we have made and the great beginning and it is going to strengthen the international communist movement in a big way. And for example all the problems the financial capital crisis has created - the imperialist system as a whole is facing a crisis. And the serious financial crisis shows that imperialism is not an answer to any problems. Socialism is the only answer to imperialism.“

CPB (Communist Party of Bangladesh)

„This is important because there is a high level of unification of the Marxist-Leninist parties of the world. So this is an important event. So from the historical point of view this will be a milestone of the revolutionary movement and of the communist parties. There is lively discussion based on democratic principles, on a proletarian democracy we are practicing. So this is very interesting.“

CPB (Communist Party of Bangladesh)

“My impression is very good and I think that this conference moves to our struggle for socialism, democracy and fight against imperialism, religious fundamentalism, so that I think this conference educated me, educated us. From all over the world, people came here and their attitude, their speech also is very helpful to me.”

MLOA (Marxist-Leninist Organization of Afghanistan)

“I think, it's great, as you can meet many revolutionaries from different countries and exchange experiences and learn many things from them and contribute your own experiences and the situation of your own country.”

MLOA (Marxist-Leninist Organization of Afghanistan)

“It's been a very, very friendly and warm, comradely atmosphere which is really, really very special in the sense that outside this environment we can't find it. And besides there is the aspect of exchange of views and also experience with other comrades and also the fact that we learn from them as they may learn from us.”
